Architecture Awareness Club Presents at CMOG

Architecture Awareness Club is a 8th grade club that allows students to pick a building or piece of property and come up with a transformation project that could enhance and fir the needs of the community. Students work with a local architect, learn new skills and create a 3D model and PowerPoint to demonstrate their project. On February 8th, the students went to the Corning Museum of Glass and used their public speaking skills and presented their project to a panel and other schools, while enjoying the museum.

Valley Celebrates the 100th Day of School

Character Speed-dating for The Crucible

Mr. Dufort’s 11th grade English classes used a form of character speed-dating as a learning strategy in class on Valentine’s Day. The students filled out cards on the various characters from The Crucible by Arthur Miller. They rotated around with their cards and traded as well as shared information about the characters. The information they shared were items such as characteristics, conflicts, Puritan faith scale and their perceived power ranking in Salem, Massachusetts during the time of the play as well as justifications for the faith and power rankings. Sierra Cevette, 11th grader, said, “It was an enjoyable, sociable activity that allowed us to see the perspectives of other classmates.”

Congratulations to the following Tuscarora readers for reaching 100 steps:

Remote Learning Plan for Addison CSD:

Addison District Families - As you are likely aware, the District has already used three (3) emergency closure days this year.
What does this mean for the students and their families as we navigate through the remaining school year?

It means that the next emergency closing/snow day WILL BE REMOTE as long as we know the school day before to prepare staff, students, and families/caregivers. Proceeding in this way will avoid the possibility of having to reclaim days from our remaining school breaks in February and April while also allowing us to preserve the possibility of having two (2) days remaining at or near the end of the school year to flex as needed.

The general idea is that a pivot to remote learning is a “regular” school day in the sense that all students will be learning, all teachers will be teaching, and all support staff will be working/learning.

The students will be learning at home and the teachers will be teaching at home (or teaching from their classrooms/school building). Each Program Level Principal will be communicating building level details regarding how the remote learning day for students will look and the expectations for participation.
Additional information about technology support on remote days will be forthcoming.

Please Note: The idea here is to make the remote learning experience as “regular” of a learning day as possible. This will be a continuous work in progress with expected small bumps along the way while knowing that it will be OK. Be on the lookout for communications from your child’s Principal.
