Growing Skilled Trades Field Trip

On April 27, 2023, Mrs. Kujawski took a group of High School students on a field trip called Growing Skilled Trades in the Southern Tier. It was a hands-on career exploration event featuring high growth and high demand careers in the skilled trades. Students participated in a variety of activities including welding, electrical wiring, heavy equipment operation and much more.

Best Wishes to Mr. Lyke

Mr. Lyke grew up and went to school in Savona, NY. He originally wanted to be a broadcaster for the Buffalo Bills and even chose to major in broadcasting at SUNY Oswego. Listening to Don Imus and Howard Stern and having a good friend who worked in radio inspired him to pursue this field. He ended up working in radio for 12 years. After this job, Mr. Lyke went to the Arc of Steuben where he worked with people that had developmental disabilities.

Mr. Lyke coached his daughter's soccer team when she was little. During that time, parents would tell him that he was great with kids. Also, they often asked him why he wasn't a teacher. Ironically, he always wanted to be a teacher, but he thought he had missed his chance. He was encouraged and decided to pursue a master's degree in education at Elmira College.

In 2008, Mr. Lyke began working at the Tuscarora Elementary School as a 4th grade teacher. Mr. Lyke says, "My favorite memory of teaching is when I have taught a lesson, a student is struggling and then after a reteach, the lightbulb goes off and they get the lesson. I love when that happens. I will always remember when I was awarded the teacher of the year with several of my colleagues in 2019."

Though he had hoped to be a teacher for 20 years, his physical needs have made it hard for him to continue his career. It is with mixed emotions that he is retiring. He expressed how he has worked with very talented teachers and how he has developed good friendships. He hopes to continue to share memories with them outside of work. Mr. Lyke says all three jobs he's had have helped him grow as a person and he's very fond of being able to experience all of them.

After retirement, Mr. Lyke hopes to travel, spend as much time with his daughter and go to Bills games for as long as he can. He hopes to have made an impact on the lives of the students who were in his class.

Mr. Lyke has a special message for the community: "I want the community to know that I gave it my all. I really cared about the students in my class and hope they value their education and do their best every day. My mother would say, 'If you have done your best, that is all I can ask of you.' My challenge with my disability has been tough." He's very excited for what the next chapter will bring and hopes everyone knows he gave 100%.

We thank him for everything he's done for the students as well as the community and wish him luck and good memories during retirement.

Featuring Fred...

The Journalism class would like to feature a vital part of our district, our bus drivers. Fredrick Osborn has been working for the district for almost 29 years. Fred started working here as a sub bus driver on March 15th, 1998 (after retiring from Prudential Insurance) because he was in search of something to do. Fred doesn't plan to retire any time soon. He says he wants to keep driving as long as he can. He enjoys the kids, and he loves doing it! However, when he does retire, he's thinking about traveling.

Fred's favorite bus memory was when a student left an envelope on the bus, and it had $175.00 in it! He made sure that it was safely and quickly returned into the proper hands. His most challenging bus experience was this year, when an instant freeze made the roads so slippery, he had to pull off to the side of the road and wait for a sand truck to go by. He does a few extra bus trips like skiing and sports games to be able to connect with students not on his regular bus run.

Driving is something that Fred thoroughly enjoys, regardless of where he is going and who he is transporting. When he's not driving, you can catch him at his great grandkid's sports games, or doing target practice and hunting.
